

STODGHILL GOES FREE.

County Judge Wilson Believes
Jury Would Not Convict and Dismisses Case.

EXAMINING TRIAL FOR KILLING OF CHARLES OSBORN.

A tragedy was enacted on the interurban train Saturday between here and Madisonville which seems directly attributable to liquor, according to the evidence produced at the examining trial before Judge Willson on Tuesday, of Ward Stodghill, for the killing of Charles Osborn, colored.

The shooting occurred as the train, the last trip out, was leaving Madisonville Saturday afternoon before it reached the deep cut. Osborn was brought to Earlinton and given immediate surgical attention at the hospital. The shot entered his abdomen and there were five punctures of the intestines, so that there was scarce a chance for recovery. He died Sunday.

Judge Wilson declined to hold Stodghill, upon the ground that he did not believe a jury would convict, and the case was dismissed. Acting County Attorney Bailey appeared for the commonwealth and C. J. Ward-dill represented Stodghill. The witnesses generally agreed that Osborn was in liquor. Stodghill, who is flagman on the interurban train, testified that Osborn was disorderly and profane and resisted his efforts to preserve order in the performance of his duty. He pulled the bell rope and started to put Osborn off but the latter resisted and a fight followed in which Osborn was about to throw him from the moving train and he fired the shot to save himself. There was some difference of opinion as to who struck the first blow, but the witnesses impressed their hearers as wanting to tell what they had seen and heard dispassionately and without prejudice, notwithstanding all the witnesses who saw the beginning of the trouble were negroes.

The people of Earlinton deplore most deeply this tragedy on all accounts, not the least of which is the sorrow it has brought to Abe and Sarah Osborn, parents of the dead man, who are among our most trusted and respected colored citizens. Mr. Stodghill's friends hold that the shooting was a necessary act of self defense but they sincerely regret that this shadow should have come into his life and the lives of others.

Mr. Atkinson and Family Are Enjoying Vacation.

News from Mr. John B. Atkinson, who is spending part of the summer in vacation on his New Jersey farm, tells of the daily enjoyment of simple, country life, accompanied by the relaxation that comes to a man of affairs under the temporary influence of comfortable rural surroundings. Mr. Atkinson and family are quite well and expect to return to Earlinton after their vacation, rejuvenated by the summer's rest and ready to take up the more strenuous life here with new vigor.

Shot Down a Citizen in Logan County.

Guthrie, Ky., July 13.—James T. Cunningham, a prominent young farmer who resided on the farm of Dr. Jesse Russell, about ten miles from Guthrie, near Keysburg, was shot and almost instantly killed this morning by Rufus Browder, a negro farm hand. The shooting was the result of a disagreement over wages due the negro by Cunningham, and was entirely unprovoked.

Browder escaped, but was discovered this afternoon by a posse of 150 men and turned over to Sheriff Thomas Rhea, of Russellville who was on the spot.

About midnight a mob of 200 came to lynch Browder. The negro had secretly been removed from the jail by officials and could not be found. The mob was masked and heavily armed.

The little lad fired and, it is believed, wounded the fiend. A posse is searching for the negro and there is much talk of lynching.

EARLINGTON GETS THE RIFLE RANGE.

Twenty Years' Lease of St. Bernard Land to Government is Approved By War Department.

Range Tract With Privilege of Camp Sites for Regiment or Brigade.

Constructing Engineers Expected to Come Here in Short Time to Equip the Range.

DRYEST TOWN IN KENTUCKY WILL ENTERTAIN KENTUCKY SOLDIERY

Location and Environment of Earlinton
Range Has Received Approval of Kentucky Officers and the Governor.

The Bee has positive information that Earlinton will get the Third Regimental Rifle Range and that work of equipping the range will begin quickly in the hope that the range may be in readiness for the 1908 shoot. This, however, will mean a lot of work to be done in a short time. This work will include digging pits, grading, concrete work on the pits, the installing of targets and the necessary machinery for their operation upon the most modern plans known to the United States army officials. And upon this work will be expended some thousands of dollars. It will be done by a large concern of contracting engineers, whose bid, it is understood, has already been accepted.

At the time that the leases were submitted to Adjutant General Johnson by Mr. John B. Atkinson for the St. Bernard Mining company, accompanied by the complete and elaborate survey and blue prints prepared by Capt. F. D. Rash, General Johnson wrote that he had forwarded the papers to the War Department and that he would notify Mr. Atkinson as soon as he received information that the lease had been approved. Now all the formalities have been accomplished and the work is to be pushed.

This permanent rifle range is to be in the neighborhood of the temporary range used by the Third regiment last year, but much nearer town. The location is just at the head of Loch Mary, admirably situated as to lay of the land and direction of range, with a range of hills several hundred feet high as a barrier behind the targets. The regimental camp site is on the beautiful knoll between H. S. Corey's residence and the line of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, near the arboratum. To this site will be conducted water mains and electric light wires for the comfort and convenience of the soldiers. The location is ideal for all reasons and will be in the best possible condition.

The brigade headquarters suggested in the plans submitted is located in the large hay field east of the Earlinton and Madisonville road on the Nisbet farm. Brigades will be mobilized on different ranges in the State, from one year to another, so that it may not be long before the people of Earlinton and Hopkins county may see the glory of armies and the pomp of war in the mobilization of the entire military organization of the State of Kentucky upon the Earlinton range and camp sites.

Capt. Frank D. Rash has been highly complimented by his superior officers for the comprehensiveness and excellence of detail in his plans of and reports on these sites. As announced in another column, he has just now been designated by the Adjutant General as coach of the Kentucky Rifle Team at the national shoot in August.

KENTUCKY RIFLE TEAM.

Expected To Shoot Kentucky Into Victory At Port Clinton, Ohio.

The work of selecting the rifle team that will represent Kentucky in the national rifle shoot at Port Clinton, O., next month, says a Frankfort dispatch, is a tedious process, but a sure one. Every company in the State Guard sent five of its best marksmen to the rifle range at Frankfort for practice. Out of all these five-men teams twenty of those making the best scores were selected to try for the final team of twelve men to shoot at Port Clinton. These twenty men will now practice regularly to ascertain which are the twelve best shots. These twelve men and three alternates will be taken to Port Clinton, where another week's practice will be indulged in to decide finally who shall compose the twelve men team that will endeavor to shoot Kentucky into victory. Capt. Jackson Morris, the genial Assistant Secretary of State, will have charge of all arrangements. He is probably the best rifle shot in Kentucky, and has won many handsome medals in other national shoots. His younger brother, who is almost as good a shot as he is, will also be on the team, and it is believed by those who ought to know that the Kentucky team this year will carry off some of the coveted honors at Port Clinton.

Two Old Coins Worth $6,200.

Six thousand and two hundred dollars was paid for one $5 and one $10 gold piece at auction in this city Wednesday afternoon. Both were coined privately, but were at the time of their issue legal money, containing the required weight of virgin gold. Both are excessively rare, there being only two specimens of each extant. The other two are in the museum of the United States mint in this city, says the Philadelphia North American. J. J. Conway & Co., of Georgia Gulch, Col., coined the $5 that brought $3,200. It bears the date of 1861. The other coin was stamped by the Cincinnati Mining and Trading Company, of California in 1849. It was bid in for $3,000. Both coins were in the collection of the late Thomas H. Windle, of Coatesville, Pa.

The California $10 coin had not been owned by Mr. Windle long before his death. It was bought for him by Henry Chapman at the sale of O'Hagen collection in London for 435 pounds, or about $2,100. The bidding for the two coins, that were sold separately, was very spirited, the bid for each being started at $2,000 by Mr. Chapman. Mr. Elder, a New York numismatist, was the chief competitive bidder.

The famous collection of one-cent pieces owned by F. D. Taylor, of Pittsfield, Mass., was also sold, and commanded excellent prices. There were 259 one-cent pieces that brought all the way from $1 to $55 each. At least twenty of them brought more than $20 each, and as many more brought above $10 each. There were also forty-two half-cent pieces that brought fancy prices, $45, $42, $27 and $22 being the largest.

Some $2.50 gold pieces in the Windle collection sold very well. An 1842, from the Philadelphia mint was bid in by Chapman for $155, and the purchaser was prepared to go as high as $500 for it. An 1826 brought $80 and an 1806 brought $38. A Windle dollar of 1888 commanded $205.

SEES LAST OF HARD COAL.

Supply Exhausted in 2055, Says Geological Survey Official—Other Things to Give Heat.

New York, July 11.—If the consumption of anthracite coal continues at the same rate at which it has been going on for the last few years it is estimated that the supply will be exhausted in 2055, said Edward W. Parker of the United States geological survey.

He adds: "By that time, according to the records, the United States will be using more than 2,000,000,000 tons a year—2,300,000,000, to be exact. The average annual production during the decade from 1916 to 1925 will be about 600,000,000 tons. The total production in 1907 was 480,450,042 tons.

Mr. Parker prophesies that future generations "will have so far developed methods of subduing and utilizing other forces of nature that the need of coal for the production of heat, light and power will have been eliminated to a great extent." Until these other natural forces are subdued, however, it appears there will be enough coal to supply the world.

BLOOD HOUNDS TO HUNT NIGHT RIDERS.

Captain Millikin Leaves Lexington in Auto With The Dogs.

Lexington, Ky., July 13.—In response to a telegram from Owenton, Capt. V. G. Millikin, of this city, left here in an automobile, taking with him bloodhounds to trace a gang of alleged night riders who are believed to have burned the barn of Ira Slater, at Hardinsburg, early Saturday. A good sized crowd of night riders approached within a short distance of the barn and sent two to the building to set it on fire. It contained several thousand pounds of tobacco and all was destroyed, causing a loss of about $400. The riders, as soon as they saw that the barn was too far gone to be saved, were rejoined by their new comrades who had fired the barn and rode away. No other damage was done in that vicinity or in Owens county, so far as can be learned. Slater is an independent tobacco grower and had been warned several times.

Louisville Party in Smashup.

Louisville, Ky., July 13.—Richard Menifee, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Bounie, Carl Wiseman and Miss Elizabeth Sherley and Sam Barr, chauffeur, were seriously injured when their automobile plunged off a wrecked bridge into Salt river this morning at 1 o'clock on the way from Mammoth cave 13 miles from Louisville. The auto took a 20 foot jump.

Every member of the party was injured seriously. The bridge had been wrecked by a storm and half of it was down. The automobile gliding along a high speed in moonlight whizzed off bridge and fell into water and rocks below. Some of the men were caught under the car. Members of party dragged themselves to shore. The women of the party were able to climb back to the road, though seriously hurt, while the men lay unconscious, and secure help from a passing automobilist. DYNAMITER IS HELD

CLAIMS HE WAS EMPLOYED BY PRISCO GRAFTERS.

BLEW UP GALLAGHER RESIDENCE

Suspect Says $5,000 Was Promised for Death of Prosecution's Star Witness.

San Francisco, July 15.—John Claudlanes, the young Greek who has admitted to the district attorney's office his implication in the recent dynamiting at Oakland of the residence of former Supervisor James L. Gallagher, the star witness of the prosecution in the bribery-graft cases, is held in close confinement at the city prison and no one is permitted to see him. Search is being made in surrounding cities for his brother, Peter Claudlanes, who, according to the prisoner, was paid $1,000 out of $5,000, promised for the commission of the crime. Failure of John Claudlanes to receive any of the $1,000 paid on account was the reason assigned by him for telling the authorities his story.

District Attorney Langdon said: "In John Claudlanes I am certain that we have one of the men implicated in the dynamiting of the home of James L. Gallagher, our principal witness against Abraham Ruef and the others indicted in the bribery-graft cases. I am satisfied that man under arrest is the one who placed the dynamite in Gallagher's house. Claudlanes took us over the ground that he traveled and went into the details of how he did the work. So far he has refused absolutely to divulge anything regarding who inspired him to commit the crime or who promised to pay him for it.

DYING GIRL ACCUSED GOW.

Mrs. Gleason Says Daughter Implicated Minister.

Troy, Mo., July 15.—Mrs. Sarah Gleason, mother of Miss Elizabeth Gleason, who died in Elsberry, February 25, was a witness Tuesday at the trial of Dr. W. A. Hemphill, jointly charged with the Rev. Mrs. Gleason testified that on her death bed her daughter told her the Rev. Gow was responsible for her condition, which resulted in an operation being performed by Dr. Hemphill. In tears she related in detail the statement of her daughter.

Mrs. Gleason was severely cross-questioned by attorneys for the defense but she made no contradictory statements.

A bacteriologist of St. Louis testified that after a microscopic examination he had found Miss Gleason's condition to have been found such as alleged by her relatives.

The minister will be tried at the conclusion of the trial of Dr. Hemphill.

Put This Stove in Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days. The is so constructed that it cannot add perceptibly to the heat of a room; the flame being directed up a retaining chimney to the stove top where it is needed for cooking. You can see that a stove sending out heat in but one direction would be preferable on a hot day to a stove radiating heat in all directions. The "New Perfection" keeps a kitchen uniformly comfortable. Three sizes, fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp is the ideal lamp for family use—safe, convenient, economical and a great light giver. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Earlinton base ball club played two good games of ball last week. On Thursday they played Madisonville and won by a score of 7 to 4. Sunday they played Crofton at that place and were beaten by a score 11 to 10. Earlinton has some good ball players who only need to practice together to make them as good as the best.

The Klub Kentucky Cornet Band will have charge of the Electric Theatre on Friday night 17th at the usual price of admission. One of the best shows of the season will be put on and everyone should attend this show and help the boy out so that they can secure money to finish purchasing instruments. Capt. and Adj. F. D. Rash, of the 3rd Regiment K. S. G. has been appointed by the Adj. Gen. at Frankfort to hold an election at Madisonville Wednesday night for the purpose of electing a Captain of Company S. Up to going to press we have not learned who has been elected, but reports seem to favor Lelet. Gardner Shanks for that place. Lelet, Shanks is a 1st. Lt. in the 3rd. Regiment on the assigned list and has been in the guard for a number of years and is well qualified to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Capt. Ed Young who goes West to practice law.

Nature's Provision for Birds. Swallows, night hawks and whip-poor-wills have very small, weak bills, which open very wide so that they are able to fly swiftly literally to scoop in the food without decreasing the speed of their flight, while the wedge-shaped bills of the woodpeckers enable them to drill through bark and dead wood for hidden grubs and worms.

For Female Ills

You should take, for female ill, a medicine which acts on the female organs and functions. Cardui is not a man's medicine. It is for women. Its pure, healing, curative, vegetable ingredients, go direct to the woman's organs, relieve their pain and inflammation, and build up their strength.

"Tongue cannot tell," writes Miss Nina Smith, of Sweetser, Ind., "what

ATWOOD MAY BE THE CHAIRMAN

SEEMS TO BE CHOICE OF THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

NOTIFICATION AUGUST 12

Date Set Will Give Bryan Ample Opportunity to Answer Any Statement Republican Nominee May Make.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 15.—The appointment of a sub-committee of 11 to meet at the Auditorium Annex in Chicago on July 25 to name a chairman of the Democratic national committee and the adoption of a resolution providing for making public campaign contributions were the principal accomplishments of the national committee meeting with William J. Bryan and J. W. Kern at Fairview Tuesday. Democrats the country over were called upon to form clubs immediately to aid the campaign work.

It may be stated on authority that had the whole committee acted Tuesday, National Committeeman John H. Atwood of Leavenworth, Kas., in all probability would have been made campaign manager. Sentiment in that direction formed quite generally among the committeemen during the trip here from Denver Monday night. Mr. Atwood is a lawyer and business man of undoubted standing, and he wants the position. He was not at Fairview Tuesday, a fact which is attributed to his belief that the chairmanship would be tendered him. That action was not taken was due to Mr. Bryan. The latter has no favorite for the position nor was it antagonism to any one which formed the motive of his action Tuesday. Mr. Bryan suggested the appointment of the sub-committee and declared that on it there should be no man who was either a candidate himself or had a candidate for the campaign leadership. Tom Johnson Refuses.

The presence on the sub-committee of Mr. Ryan is an assurance that he is no longer considered a candidate. Inquiry among members of the sub-committee failed to elicit leanings toward any candidate, but the fact that the appointment has been left in their hands is not believed to diminish the chances of Mr. Atwood. D. J. Campan of Michigan is no longer considered. Tom L. Johnson won't have it; Urey Woodson would prefer to be not considered and Ollie James believes his greatest usefulness is on the stump. This situation for the present at least leaves the sub-committee with but one candidate to consider, namely, Mr. Atwood. The only whisper heard against Mr. Atwood Tuesday was the fact that his eminence in the legal profession may have brought him into closer connection with corporations than would be consistent in a campaign against "corporate greed and predatory wealth." There is ample time before the Chicago meeting for this matter to be investigated by the sub-committee, if it should deem such action necessary.

Notification at Lincoln. Lincoln is extremely happy because the formal notification of her foremost citizen has been chosen as the Democratic standard bearer will take place in his home town. Some members believed there would be great political advantage in having the notification take place in New York, while Urey Woodson was among those who favored Chicago. Chicago, he said, was a central point and the fact that railroad fares had to be paid was a factor. But there was no opposition to Mr. Bryan's wishes to have the scene laid in his home city. The date was set for Aug. 12. As this is a few weeks after the date appointed for a similar function at Cincinnati for Mr. Taft, Mr. Bryan will have ample opportunity to prepare an answer to any statements the Republican nominee may make. The official notification of the vice-presidential nominee, Mr. Kern, will take place at Indianapolis at a date to be determined upon later, probably by the time the sub-committee meets at Chicago.

RECEPTION FOR KERN. Indianapolis Plans Demonstration of Democratic Nominee's Return.

Indianapolis, July 15.—The homecoming of John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for vice-president, Wednesday night will be made the occasion of a public reception on the courthouse lawn. He will be met at the train by the general reception committee and escorted to his home. At 8 o'clock Vice-President Fairbanks will call at the Kern residence and they will ride together to the courthouse, where addresses will be made by Mayor Bank-walter and Vice-President Fairbanks. Mr. Kern is expected to respond.

Lepers to Grant Feast. Honolulu, July 15.—The Lepers located on the island of Molokai have purchased a large quantity of daylight fireworks, which will be used to salute the Atlantic battleship fleet as it passes the island. A large piece which, on its explosion, will form the word "Welcome" has been placed in a position of vantage.

MINISTER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Is Fired Upon Three Times by the Paraguayan Troops.

Lapaa, Bolivia, July 10.—Full details received here of the revolution in Paraguay state that while fighting was going on in the Aunacion, an incident occurred which might have had a most serious result. The American minister, Edward C. O'Brien, desirous of proffering his good offices in order to prevent further loss of life while approaching the headquarters of the revolutionists, was fired upon three times by government troops. According to the dispatches, the minister's escape was miraculous, as many persons were killed in the vicinity. Discovering their error, the troops ceased firing and an officer hastened to give explanations to the minister, who is convinced that the act was not premeditated.

The new president of Paraguay, Emiliano Naveiro, has been officially recognized by the majority of the foreign diplomats. Claims for damages by the foreign legations are heavy.

STUDENT IS DISCHARGED.

Washburns of Lafayette, Ind., Get Money and Are Satisfied.

New York, July 10.—Enrique Llamas, a former student of Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., was Thursday discharged from custody on the charge of larceny of $12,400 from Mrs. Elizabeth Washburn, who conducted a students' boarding house in the Indiana town. Mrs. Washburn and Llamas came to this city together and were arrested last Tuesday.

Mrs. Washburn's husband came on the trip from Indiana to testify at the hearing Thursday. After the woman had promised to return home with her husband, the complaint against Llamas was dismissed. The money, which was recovered, was returned to Mr. and Mrs. Washburn.

BROKER DIES FROM HURTS.

Henry J. Faulkner Is Found Near Railroad Tracks with Skull Crushed.

New York, July 10.—Henry J. Faulkner, a member of the New York stock exchange, was found with his skull crushed and several bones smashed Thursday afternoon near the railroad tracks of the New Haven railroad at East 216th street and Webster avenue.

He was taken to Fordham hospital, where he died an hour later. There was nothing to show whether he had been attacked or had fallen from a train.

Argus on Adams' Confession.

Grand Junction, Col., July 10.—Arguments were concluded Thursday on the question of the admission of Steve Adams' confession as evidence at his trial on the charge of murdering Miss Superintendent Arthur Collins at Telluride. The point was hotly contested, as the state's case, it is said, is based largely on the confession. The defense declares the confession was secured both through coercion and promises of immunity from punishment, and is therefore not admissible as evidence.

Raport Crazy Snake Quiet.

Muskogee, Okla., July 10.—Word received here Thursday afternoon from the Hickory camp grounds says that Crazy Snake and his followers are perfectly quiet and that there is absolutely no trouble that would warrant the state authorities in calling troops to the scene. The Snake band of the Creek Indians and negroes are holding their annual green corn dance and Indian Agent Kelsey says there is no cause for alarm.

The Northwest Sweltering.

St. Paul, Minn., July 11.—Extremely high temperatures prevailed throughout the northwest Friday, the official record at Pierre, S. D., showing 102 degrees. In St. Paul the maximum was 92. One death and three prostrations resulted in this city. One death resulted in Duluth. At Fargo, N. D., the temperature was 95 degrees; at Duluth 92 and Huron, S. D., 93. Three prostrations were reported in Minneapolis.

Possie Pursues a Negro.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 11.—An attempt was made Thursday night by a negro to attack Mrs. Richard Lewis near Mannington. Her screams aroused her 12-year-old son, who seized a shotgun and ran into the room. The negro fled and the boy fired at him, probably wounding him. A posse is searching for the negro.

Potter's Condition No Better.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 10.—Bishop Henry C. Potter's condition Thursday night is less favorable than it has been for some days past. He passed the night in comfort and was in no pain during the day, but he has not gained in strength. While every hope is still expressed that the outcome of the bishop's illness will be favorable, it is admitted that his condition is still critical.

Newa Editor Dies.

Chicago, July 14.—Gustavus P. Engleish, news editor of the Associated Press in Chicago for 15 years, died of heart disease a short time after reaching his home here from Denver Monday evening. Engleish had assisted in the formation of the Democratic national convention when he arrived home complaining of feeling fatigued. An hour later he was dead.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Surely, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply dislodge the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell, at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

WE cannot divide our work from ourselves, nor isolate our future from our qualities. A ship might as well try to sail north with her jib and south with her mainsail as a man to go one way in conduct and another way in character. What we do belongs to what we are, and what we are is what becomes of us.—Henry Van Dyke.

HEADLINES tell the story, "Hobson Foresees War." That little shooting and swimming episode in Captain Richmond Pearson's naval career made such an impression upon him that he is still "seein' things."

Full publicity as to campaign funds is announced as the policy of both Republican and Democratic parties in the national election this year. The Democratic organization will accept contributions as large as $10,000 so as they be not given by any corporation. Here's an opportunity, boys, to go down into your jeans.

Gov. WILLSON announces that he will not call an extra session of the Legislature now for any purpose, and says that the first thing necessary is "a redistricting of the State according to the Constitution, which has been postponed for nearly fifteen years." The County Unit Bill is one of the principal issues that are being urged for consideration if an extra session should be called at any time. The Governor says: "Unless circumstances should absolutely force such action I should not be willing to call an extra session to consider the measure just to make a political point."

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A SCANDAL SCAVENGER?

There are many violent things said and threatened about the bank wrecker and the man who does disreputable things in the field of "high finance", to the detriment of his more humble fellow man. And such remarks are wholly justifiable when directed against the guilty individual. Let us remember, however, that in the humbler walks of life, among men who have no banks to wreck and who are not afflicted with weighty money bags and "high finance," there are many men and many women who are wreckers of character and thieves of good names—things that the wealth of banks cannot buy nor all the tricks of high financiers could restore. And these character wreckers in humble life do their murderous work for very love of it, without even the bank wrecker's hope of gain. Let the crusade against these thoughtless and dangerous tongue shooters be pushed with vigor.

Political Josh.

Time Enough.

In nominating for President a man serving a twenty-five year term for murder the Social Laborites are not so inconsistent as they seem. They will not need him before his term expires.—Boston Transcript.

Bryan says he has learned not to worry about small things. No, the thing that usually worries him is the size of the other man's majority.—Toledo.

The Poetry of Politics.

For eight long years the poet clan has sweat and struggled to a man—aye, poets tall or fat or aye—to dig up rhymes for Roosevelt; it kept the poetry output down, and added thus to Ted's renown. Why, then, were we not warned in time to choose a man who doesn't rhyme? The witty shaft, the flagon quaffed, the laughter after grafters chaffed; the Bryan raft so far afloat our betty presidential craft—Lord knows what all! We'll all go draft while poets have their fling at Taft.—Judge.

A Nebraska Echo.

Does Bryan fear to tread the path
Which he himself has picked
And the regnant G. O. P.
To lick or to be licked?
Echo—be licked.
Why does he hang on like a leech
And work his well-worn bluff?
Two times a loser in the race,
Is not that quite enough?
Echo—enough.

Observe the smile upon his face,
Put there to meet the scoff,
And scorn of genuine Democrats—
The smile that won't come off.
Echo—come off.

He says that he alone has strength
To pull the party through,
And anyone opposing him
To party is not true.
Echo—not true.

Oh, hear him speak upon the stump
His accents rising high:
Behold in me the people's own;
I am Vox Populi.
Echo—ull.

"I want to run; I ought to run,
Because, dear friends, you see,
It's nothing more than right and what
The delegates owe me."
Echo—ah, me.

With Bryan at the front once more,
The matchless Leader, brave—
Say, will the party follow him
To glory or the grave?
Echo—the grave.

Mr. Kerns Little Joke.

It pleases Mr. John W. Kern of Indiana to look upon his nomination for the vice presidency with humorous nonchalance.

When excited friends first told him that he had been named he waved them aside and continued the narration of a funny story. Since then he has discoursed much about anecdotal friends at the bar, much about Indiana localisms and much about his beard. He has not, so far as reported, said one word in serious appreciation of the honor and responsibility which a great national party has placed on his shoulders.

To us this course seems in the worst of bad taste. It also seems to be extremely poor politics. A man who looks upon his nomination to an exalted office merely as a joke gives the people a very convincing reason for not electing him to that office.—Chicago Evening Post.

Mining

The Mining News in and Around Earlington

At Covington, Va., a coke drawing and loading machine has been manufactured.

2000 miners in the Ft. Smith, Ark. district will soon strike on account of the coal operators refusing to employ shot firers in the mines.

The coal dealers of Illinois and Wisconsin have called a meeting to hear addresses from leading coal dealers on the coal industry.

In the anthracite coal fields there are said to be about 170,000 miners. Of this number on about 25,000 belong to the United Mine Workers.

1000 coke ovens in the Connellsville district at Sharon, Penn., will soon resume work. These ovens have been shut down since last December.

Foreman N. W. Umstead, of the electrical department, now has a force of men at work wiring the new Eleven mine, and in a short time all preparations will be completed to open this mine as soon as the demand for coal becomes sufficient to justify.

The production of Anthracite coal in Pennsylvania last year reached the enormous total of 76,432,421 tons, an increase over the preceding year of over 12,000,000 tons.

Chicago capitalists are now interested in a scheme to develop ten miles square of Canadian coal fields on Graham Island. These coal lands are said to be traversed by six seams of bituminous coal.

Coal fields of Canada now look to the railroads for pay for shortage of coal. A large deal showed that on a shipment of three hundred cars, an average of five dollars a car was lost.

G. A. Haley, foreman of the track force in Hecia mines, accompanied by his wife and some other relatives, made friends at Rose Creek Mines a visit last Sunday. For quite a while Mr. Haley was an employee of that mine, where he did good work for his employers and was popular among his acquaintances.

James Ryan, one of the oldest and best known coal dealers of Louisville, Ky., died a few days ago at the age of 75 years. He came from Ireland when a mere boy and has resided in Louisville ever since.

The Federal Bureau of Labor, at Washington, D. C., have figured it out that the cost of living during the last ten years has increased in price about one hundred per cent. If this be true how fortunate for us to live in Hopkins county where coal is plentiful all the year round and no perceptible increase in price.

It is pleasing to note the fact that not a single mine official of any prominence in this county, was known to publicly announce an opinion in favor of the whiskey side of the contest at Madisonville. All of them fully recognized the fact, liquor is the most dangerous enemy to labor and they fought and voted accordingly.

Assistant Inspector of mines, Thomas O. Long, expects to enter upon the duties pertaining to that office this week. He has made his bond and has gone to Frankfort for his Commission with which he will report for duty to C. J. Norwood, Chief Inspector, at Lexington. His territory, which has not yet been officially assigned, will probably embrace about seven counties in the Western Kentucky coal field, and all the mines will have to be visited once every sixty days.

Among the thousands who will be benefited by the success of the anti-saloon movement at Madisonville last week, are some miners of this county who have been making regular visits to the county seat, spending their hard earned money for intoxicants, when we are sorry to say, in some cases, their families were much in need of the means thus squandered.

That the mine foremen here are determined to vigilantly protect not only the men in the mines but also the dumb brutes, was shown last week when foreman Blair, of Hecia mine, promptly discharged one of the drivers who returned from work with his mule bearing marks of brutal abuse. A few lessons of this kind will teach the boys to be kind to the animals in their charge.

Although business at the mines is dull, mine foremen generally complain of the scarcity of labor on the days they do run, and the old saying is proving true here this year; "The less you do, the less you want to do," and while men are plentiful, some of them won't work even half time. And some one has said that if the mines should run only one day a week, some men would be found to lay idle that day.

Among those who were delighted with the result of the contest over the liquor question at Madisonville, was president J. B. Atkinson, of the St. Bernard Mining Co., who is, and was at the time, taking a recreation on his farm in New Jersey. He is regarded as the father of prohibition in this county, as is proven by the fact that Earlington was first to close out saloons over twenty years ago, followed by all other places in the county where the St. Bernard Mining Co., was the controlling influence.

Dates And Places For The Examination Of Mine Foremen.

As stated in The Bee last week examinations will be held this month and next for mine foremen under the new Kentucky law. A Frankfort dispatch now announces that:

On and after September 20 it will be unlawful for anyone to be employed as a mine foreman in any mine in Kentucky where more than ten men are employed without a certificate from the Board of Examiners, composed of the Chief Inspector of Mines and the two assistants. This law will be strictly enforced and mine foremen all over the State will have to stand examinations so that they can perform their duties legally. Prof. C. J. Norwood, Chief Inspector has announced that examinations for certificates as mine foremen will be held at the following times and places:

July 15, at Williamsburg, for applicants from Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle and Whitley counties.

July 30, at Middlesboro, for Knox and Bell counties.

August 3, at Ashland, for Boyd, Carter, Lawrence, Johnson, Floyd and Pike counties.

August 10, at Lexington, for applicants from Breathitt, Lee, Morgan, Polaski, Western Whitley and Wayne counties and for such others as may choose to attend.

August 17, at Central City, for Butler, Davless, Hancock, McLean, Muhlenberg and Ohio counties.

August 20, at Madisonville, for Christian, Crittenden, Henderson, Hopkins, Union and Webster counties.

August 24, at Lexington, for applicants who may have missed other sessions.

A Lucky Dream.

Willis Pratt, a farmer living near Farmersburg, Indiana, is today $25,000 richer than he was, says a dispatch from Sullivan, Ind., owing to an invention which he pictured in a dream.

Some time ago Pratt dreamed three nights in succession about the construction of an improved churn, and he set to work and modeled one after the one pictured in his dreams.

As soon as the model was completed he obtained a patent. Last week a churn company of Chicago asked Pratt to place a price on his invention, which he did, putting the figure so high that he had little hope of the company accepting the price. Contrary to his expectations, he received a reply that the company would accept the offer and that it would send a representative immediately to close the deal.

BRYAN AND KERN

Ticket Nominated by the National Democratic Convention.

WORK AT DENVER CONCLUDED

Nebraska Sage Nominated Amidst Scenes of the Greatest Enthusiasm. The Platform, Addresses of Temporary and Permanent Chairmen and Scenes and Incidents.

THE TICKET.

For President—
WILLIAM J. BRYAN of Nebraska.
For Vice President—
JOHN W. KERN of Indiana.

Denver, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the Democratic national convention amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all-night session, which was kept in a constant state of turmoil up to the culminating moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention as the Democratic standard bearer.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing: William J. Bryan 892 1/2, Governor John A. Johnson 46, Judge George Gray 59 1/2.

The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equalling in turbulence, if not in duration, the record breaking display which on Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Mr. Bryan's name in the convention.

The scene within the amphitheater at the moment the nomination was made was one of stirring animation. From pit to dome the vast building was packed with 10,000 people. It was a spectacle of grandiose proportions—tier on tier and gallery on gallery of agitated forms, the women in white, the delegates massed below, many of them restless, a myriad of fans fluttering to combat the stifling heat and close atmosphere of this long pent-up exuberant multitude, ever ready to spring into feverish outbreaks of enthusiasm, and everywhere the blaze of flame, bunting and patriotic devices and the enveloping folds of Old Glory.

Twice before the throng had been moved into a mad ecstasy, first by the speech placing the name of Bryan in nomination, and again when that of Governor Johnson of Minnesota was proposed; but these manifestations paled before the culminating outburst of emotion. Before the Nebraska's actual nomination was made the whole assembly rose in mass, waving flags, handkerchiefs, newspapers, hats and coats, anything and everything which hands could lay upon to wave aloft or hurl into the air, while a bedlam of sound poured out from these 10,000 throats in exultant yell, cat-calls, Comanche war-whoops, the roar of megaphones, and the strains of the band playing an exultant anthem.

When for a moment order could be secured out of this tempestuous chaos of demonstration, state after state which had at first recorded its vote for Johnson or Gray fell into line with the overwhelming column, and the nomination was made unanimous and by acclamation.

The taking of the vote had been followed with breathless interest, as state after state swelled the Bryan strength. When New York was reached in the call of states the announcement of Chief Murphy "Seventy-eight votes for Bryan," brought out a wild outburst of enthusiastic approval, which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. A further delay was caused by a demand for a poll of the New York delegation. On this poll many of the New York delegates, including Judge Alton B. Parker, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the on fire 78 votes of the delegation were cast for Bryan under the "unit rule." Pennsylvania was similarly called, after sharp disagreement within the delegation, and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast was divided.

Prior to the culminating scene in the convention hall when the nomination of Bryan was made the assembly had listened for hours to the oratory of nominating speakers, who moved them frequently to outbursts of fervid excitement. It was a scene poetic that the platform would be ready for adoption at 7 o'clock in the evening, when the night session began. But at that hour the committee on resolutions was still struggling with the planks relating to the currency, the tariff, the Mormon question and other important subjects. A committee appointed by the convention to learn how soon the platform would be ready reported that it would be midnight before the document was ready for the consideration of the convention. Thereupon, on motion of Congressman Ollie James of Kentucky, the regular order of procedure was suspended and the convention proceeded to call the roll of states for nominations for the presidency, with the understanding that the nominating and seconding speeches would be made without a final vote until the platform had been adopted.

At 9 o'clock the nominating speeches began and delegates and spectators were stirred with eager expectancy as the supreme and long deferred work of nominating the presidential candidate was begun.

Alabama, the first state on the roll call, yielded to Nebraska, the home state of Mr. Bryan, whose spokesman, the youthful orator, Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, advanced to the platform. He spoke in good voice, with great earnestness and to a sympathetic audience, which greeted each utterance of tribute to the Nebraska leader.

BRYAN'S CAREER.

- Born, Salem, Ill., March 19, 1856;
- graduated Illinois College, as valedictorian of his class, 1881; admitted to bar, July, 1884, married Mary Elizabeth Baird, Oct. 1, 1884; removed from Jacksonville, Ill., to Lincoln, Neb., 1887; elected to congress in 1890, serving from 1891 to 1895; Democratic nominee for United States senate, 1892; political editor of Omaha World-Herald, 1894-5; Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States in 1896; and 1900, organized regiment of volunteers for Spanish-American war and became colonel, 1898; established "Baker's" paper, by commoner, 1901; rose from sick bed to speak at Democratic convention at St. Louis, 1904; traveled around the world, 1905-6, visiting the Philippines and the leading countries of the orient and Europe; addressed the delegates of the Interparliamentary Peace union in London, July 24, 1906; given significant reception on arrival in New York, Aug. 30, 1906; has been successful as a public lecturer and as an editor and publisher; was invited by President Roosevelt to the recent conference of governors on the conservation of our national resources.

with demonstrative evidence of approval. His concluding passage was a fervid tribute to the commoner, as the intrepid leader who had borne aloft the battle scarred flag of Democracy through the campaigns of 1896 and 1900, with the devotion and faith of the crusaders of old days, "America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William J. Bryan."

This was the signal for a long continued uproar, rivaling in intensity and duration the demonstration of Wednesday, which lasted 1 hour and 26 minutes. Again the whole assembly was lashed into a fury of excitement. The delegates seized the states' standards and gathered them on the presiding officer's platform, while the galleries broke into tumultuous clamor. The demonstration lasted upwards of 45 minutes. At times it assumed such proportions of madness as the excited throngs rushed through the aisles toward the platform that there was serious danger of panic. Men and women were bowled over in the mad onrush of flag bearing enthusiasts. One woman fainted and was carried from the hall.

The nomination of Governor Johnson of Minnesota precipitated another whirlwind of excitement. If not so long sustained, hardly less enthusiastic than for Bryan. The delegation from Minnesota, standing on their chairs and waving flags, handkerchiefs, hats and anything that could be waved, were the storm center of the demonstration, while groups of scattered delegates here and there lent their energies to those of Minnesota. The galleries, too, seemed to contain an ample supply of Johnson enthusiasm, and on every hand the waves of Johnson demonstration swept back and forth from end to end through the great hall.

The Gray nomination also received its full share of enthusiastic approval, although the nominating speech of Irving L. Handy of Delaware was frequently interrupted by the impatient crowd, and finally by the arrival of the committee on resolutions.

It was after midnight when the nominating speeches were temporarily suspended to receive the report of the resolutions committee. Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, made the report, announcing at the outset that it was presented as the unanimous view of the committee, the entire membership of which ranged themselves on the platform, flanking Governor Haskell as an evidence of their united attitude. The enunciation of party principle was received with close attention and with frequent demonstrations of assent. The provision concerning injunctions was punctuated by applause, and at its conclusion a ringing cheer went up from delegates and spectators. The provisions concerning trusts, railway regulation, income tax and various other problems awakened lively approbation. The platform was adopted by a rousing unanimous vote.

Bryan's Statement.
Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by William J. Bryan when he received announcement of his nomination as the candidate of the Democratic party for president:

"The presidency is the highest official position in the world and no one occupying it can afford to have a view upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing this responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen, he should enter on the discharge of his duties with singleness of purpose. Believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election. This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be, and if elected my obligation will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor the more because it came not from one person or a few persons but from the rank and file acting freely and without compulsion.

"I am very much pleased with the platform. It is clear, specific and strong, and I am grateful to the convention for the work it has done in stating the issues. I am sure that the platform will greatly strengthen as in the fight we are entering."

JOHN W. KERN

Indiana Man Is Nominated for Vice President.

Denver, July 10.—At the final session Friday of the Democratic convention, Hon. John W. Kern of Indiana was nominated for vice president by acclamation. His name was presented to the convention by Delegate Marshall and was seconded by a host of delegates, including Governor Folk of Missouri, Charles A. Towne of New York, Clark Howell of Georgia and Archibald McNeill of Connecticut were also placed in nomination.

As the call of states proceeded it soon became evident that the Indiana man would land. The names of Towne, Howell and McNeill were withdrawn and Kern was nominated by acclamation.

GUFFEY

Suffers Defeat in the Contests From Pennsylvania.

Among the notable contests before the national convention were those from Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio. In the Pennsylvania contests the delegates of National Committee chairman James M. Guffey were turned down by the credentials committee and this action was sustained by the convention, 615 to 397, the Guffey forces losing control of the Pennsylvania delegation. Mayor Tom L. Johnson won his case in the Nineteenth Ohio, but lost out in the Ninth. The Mayor also was defeated by Harvey Garber for member of the national committee from Ohio.

In the New York contests the convention and credentials committee disallowed the claims of Patrick McCarron of Brooklyn.

CLAYTON

Addresses Convention When Presented As Permanent Chairman.

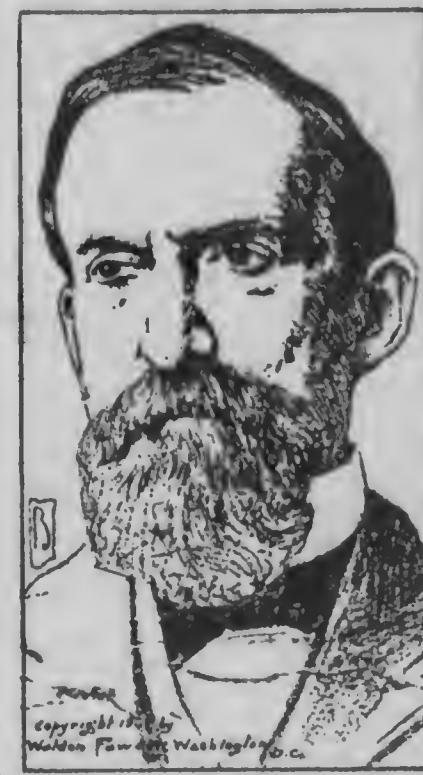

In assuming the duties of permanent chairman of the Democratic convention, Henry D. Clayton of Alabama said:

The Republican party, having had full control of the federal government for more than a decade, must give an account of its stewardship. Its pretentious claims will not suffice. Let honest investigation reveal the bad and defective laws passed by that party; vicious policies maintained; reforms rejected; the recent panic and its consequences; promises broken; dissimulation practiced; incompetency confessed by its failures to meet urgent public needs, and exhibiting this incompetency by the appointment of junketing commissions for the alleged purpose of advising that party so long in control and of such boasted legislative wisdom what legislation is required by the country. Against the Republican party, as degenerate and corrupt, is a capable, determined, honest Democratic party, in sympathy with all just public demands and willing to do its best.

the candid public judgment. To that judgment the issue must be committed, and we unhesitatingly submit our cause to that fine and true sense for the right we know distinguishes the American people.

In this quadrennial contest Mr. Roosevelt has identified himself with Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft has identified himself with Mr. Roosevelt. The Republican party has inseparably identified the two together. To praise one you must praise the other; to criticize one is to criticize his pursuing shadow.

What are the policies that constitute the capital of the Republican party in this campaign and that are relied upon to support the candidacy of Mr. Taft? To recall Democratic platforms, speeches and measures is to convince any man that many of the president's public utterances were derived from an avowed familiarity with the teachings of our party. His utterances that are Democratic have given him his only claim to be a reformer, and have contributed more than all else to the popularity he has enjoyed. The heir and the party are committed to "unflinching adherence to the policies of the president. What are these policies and what are the achievements of president and party? Mr. Clayton then reviewed unfavorably the administration of President Roosevelt and continued:

"If the love of country and liberty is still strong in the hearts of the American people; if an oath to support the constitution is now considered by them as binding; if the people are in earnest in their protests against the arrogant rule of insolent wealth, the unauthorized and hateful influence of corporations and the exactions of the trusts; if the manliness of the fathers has been transmitted to the sons, the 4th of next March will mark the advent of the gladsome light of Democracy and the beginning of the return to constitutional government honestly and economically administered."

CHAIRMAN BELL

Delivers the Keynote Address at the Opening Session.

Theodore A. Bell of California, in assuming his duties as temporary chairman of the national Democratic convention, sounded the party keynote as follows:

We have assembled at a time when the public conscience is demanding honesty of purpose in the men who undertake to direct the affairs of state. The public eye is keenly sensitive to every political movement, and our proceedings here will be approved according to the degree of sincerity appearing in the work of this convention. There is a widespread belief, founded upon evidence of convincing character, that the party in power has not been true to its trust; that it has betrayed the common interest into the hands of the enemies of good government, thereby forfeiting its right and destroying its ability to rule in the name of the people.

There are three things that this convention should do. It ought to present in a plain and intelligible manner the serious industrial and present conditions that are disturbing the peace and happiness of our country. We should then proceed to a courageous exposure of the Republican policies that are co-operating with private greed in the general oppression of the people. Most important of all, we must exhibit a readiness and an ability to grasp problems of the hour and to effect their solution in a manner that will satisfy the sober, common sense of the multitudes whose interests are at stake.

No rational man can be opposed to corporations as such and the assertion that the Democratic party is waging an indiscriminate war against this convenient form of transacting business has no foundation in fact. It is abuse only of corporate power that we seek to eliminate.

Viewed in the light of a great moral institution, the control of corporations should remain a question of common concern rather than a political one, but the shameful complacency of the Republican party in permitting its forces to be controlled and operated by the most offending corporations of the country throws the problem into the political arena and compels the public to choose between the Democratic party, that will, and the Republican party that will not place some restrictions on incorporated greed.

Further amendment to our laws giving the federal government supervision over the issuance of railroad stocks and bonds is demanded.

The fixing of transportation charges and the control of issuances of railroad securities are inseparably connected with the actual valuation of railroads. The Democratic party believes that the first thing to do is to secure a physical valuation of the roads, that is a valuation of the solid rather than the liquid assets of railroad companies. While on the other hand the Republican party, on a roll call in the convention, by an overwhelming vote, took an unequivocal stand in favor of a system of water rates without giving the people the benefit of a motor.

The Democratic idea is that where the tariff enables the trusts to maintain a system of extortion the duty should be removed from all trust-made goods, so that competition from abroad may compel reasonable prices to our own people. There is a vast difference between the protection of American industries and the protection of criminal monopolies.

THE PLATFORM.

Declaration of Principles Adopted by National Democratic Convention.

The national Democratic convention adopted the following declaration of principles:

We, the representatives of the Democracy of the United States, in national convention assembled, reaffirm our belief in and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the party.

We rejoice at the increasing signs of an awakening throughout the country. The various investigations have traced graft and political corruption to the representatives of predatory wealth and laid bare the unscrupulous methods by which they have debauched elections and preyed upon a defenseless public through the subservient officials whom they have raised to place and power.

The conscience of the nation is now aroused to free the government from the grip of those who have made it a business asset of the favor-seeking corporations; it must become again a people's government; and be administered in all its departments according to the Jeffersonian maxim, "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

"Shall the people rule?" is the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion.

Officeholders.
Coincident with the enormous increase in expenditures is a like addition to the number of officeholders. During the past year 23,751 were added, costing $1,000,000, and in the past six years of the Republican administration the total number of new offices created, aside from many commissions, has been 90,319, entailing an additional expenditure of nearly $10,000,000, as against only 10,275 new offices created under the Cleveland and McKinley administrations, which involved an expenditure of only $5,000,000. We denounce this great and growing increase in the number of officeholders, but not only unnecessary and wasteful, but also seriously indicating a deliberate purpose on the part of the administration to keep the Republican party in power at public expense by thus increasing the number of its retainers and dependents. Such procedure we declare to be no less dangerous and corrupt than the open purchase of votes at the polls.

Economy in Administration.
The Republican congress in the session just ended has made appropriations amounting to $1,008,000,000, exceeding the total expenditures of the past fiscal year by $90,000,000, and leaving a deficit of more than $60,000,000 for the fiscal year. We denounce the heedless waste of the people's money which has resulted in this appalling increase as a shameful violation of a prudent condition of government. It is not surprising that, in the face of this shocking record, the Republican platform contains no reference to economical administration or promise thereof in the future. We demand that a stop be put to this frightful extravagance and insist upon the strictest economy in every department compatible with frugal and efficient administration.

Misuse of Patronage.
We condemn, as a violation of the spirit of our institutions, the action of the present chief executive in using the patronage of his high office to secure the nomination of one of his cabinet officers. A forced accession in the public mind is scarcely less repugnant to public sentiment than life tenure in that office. The right of the people to freely select their officials is inalienable and can not be delegated.

Home Rule.
We assert our confidence in and admiration for the wisdom of the fathers in so organizing the federal government as to secure home rule to the people of each state; and we pledge ourselves to combat with unceasing vigilance the efforts of those who are striving by usurpation to seize the powers of the people of the states for exploitation by the federal government.

Tariff.
We welcome the belated promise of tariff reform now affected by the Republican party in tardy recognition of the righteousness of the Democratic position on this question; but the people can not safely entrust the execution of this important work to a party which is so deeply obligated to the highly-protected interests as is the Republican party. We call attention to the significant fact that the promised relief was postponed until after the coming election—an election to succeed in which the Republican party must have that same support from the beneficiaries of the high protective tariff as it has always heretofore received from them; and to the further fact that during the years of uninterrupted power, no action whatever has been taken by the Republican congress to correct the admittedly existing tariff inequities.

We favor immediate revision of the tariff by the reduction of import duties. Articles entering into competition with trust-controlled products should be placed upon the free list; and material reductions should be made in the tariff upon the necessities of life, especially upon articles competing with such American manufactures as are sold abroad more cheaply than at home, and gradual reductions should be made in such other schedules as may be necessary to restore the tariff to a revenue basis.

Trusts.
A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against trust magnates and officials, and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States. Among the first a law preventing a duplication of directors among competing corporations; second, a license system which will without abridging the right of each state to create corporations or its right to regulate as it will foreign corporations distributed within its limits, make it necessary for a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce to take out a federal license before it can be permitted to control as much as 25 per cent of the product in which it deals, the license to protect the public from watered stock and to prohibit the control by such corporation of more than 50 per cent of the total amount of any product consumed in the United States, and a third law compelling such licensed corporations to sell to all purchasers in all parts of the country on the same terms, after making due allowance for cost of transportation.

Railroad Regulations.
We assert the right of the people to exercise complete control over interstate commerce and the right of each state to exercise like control over commerce within its borders.

We demand such enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission as may be necessary to compel railroads to perform their duties as common carriers and prevent discrimination and extortion.

We favor the efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, and to this we recommend the valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission, such valuation to take into consideration the physical value of the property, the original cost of reproduction and all elements of value that will render the valuation fair and just.

We favor such legislation as will prohibit the railroads from engaging in business which brings them into competition with the shippers; also legislation which will assure such reduction in transportation rates as conditions will permit, care being taken to avoid reductions that would compel a reduction of wages or do injustice to legitimate investments.

Banking.
The panic of 1907, coming without any legitimate excuse, when the Republican party had for a decade been in complete control of the federal government, furnishes additional proof that it is either unwilling or incompetent to protect the interests of the general public. It has so linked the country to the Wall Street of the sins of the speculators are visited upon the whole people. It has used an emergency for which it is largely responsible to force through congress a bill changing the basis of bank currency and inviting market manipulation, and has failed to give to the 15,000,000 depositors of the country protection in their savings.

We believe that insofar as the needs of commerce require an emergency currency, such currency should be issued, controlled by the federal government and loaned on adequate security to national and state banks. We pledge ourselves to legislation under which the national banks shall be required to establish a guarantee fund for the prompt payment of the deposits of the people. We condemn the policy of the Republican party in proposing postal savings banks under a plan of conduct by which they will aggregate the deposits of rural communities and redeposit the same within government charges in the banks of Wall Street, thus depriving the circulating medium of the producing regions and unjustly favoring the speculative markets.

Income Tax.
We favor an income tax as part of our revenue system, and we urge the submission of a constitutional amendment specifically authorizing the federal government to collect a tax upon individual and corporate incomes, to the end that wealth may bear its proportionate share of the burdens of the federal government.

Labor and Injunctions.
Experience has proven the necessity of a modification of the present policy relating to injunctions, and we reiterate the pledge of our national platform of 1896 and 1904 in favor of the measure which passed the United States senate in 1896, but which a Republican congress has ever since refused to enact, relating to contempt in federal courts, providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with labor disputes. We demand that the parties to all judicial proceedings should be treated with rigid impartiality, and that injunctions should not be issued in any cases in which injunctions would not issue if no industrial disputes were involved.

We favor the eight-hour day on all government works.

We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law by congress, as far as the federal jurisdiction extends, for a general employers' liability act covering injury to body or loss of life of employees.

We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder which has involved us in an enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength, and laid our nation open to the charge of abandoning a fundamental doctrine of self-government. We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of the United States, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers. In recognizing the independence of the Philippines our government should retain such land as may be necessary for coaling stations or navigation.

Telegraph and Telephone.
We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law to regulate the rates and service of telegraph and telephone companies engaged in the transmission of messages between the states under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

Popular Election of Senators.
We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people and regard this reform as the gateway to other national reforms.

Asiatic Immigration.
We favor full protection to both national and state governments within their respective spheres, of all foreigners residing in the United States under treaty, but we are opposed to the admission of Asiatic immigrants who can not be assimilated into the population, or whose presence among us would raise a race issue and involve us in diplomatic controversies with oriental powers.

Waterways.
Water furnishes the cheapest means of transportation and the national government, having the control of navigable waters should improve them to their fullest capacity. We earnestly favor the immediate adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for improving every watercourse in the Union, which is justified by the needs of commerce, and to secure that end, we favor when practicable the connection of the great lakes with the navigable rivers and with the Gulf through the Mississippi river and the navigable rivers with each other, and the rivers, bays and sounds of our coasts with each other by artificial canals with a view to perfecting a system of inland waterways to be navigated by vessels of standard draft.

Arizona and New Mexico.
The national Democratic party has for the last 10 years labored for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states of the federal union, and recognizing that such processes every qualification to successfully maintain separate governments, we favor the immediate admission of these territories as separate states.

Eyes Denote Bodily Condition.

The eye has a habit of registering the health. Thus a lack luster, heavy lidded expression is generally the result of excessive fatigue or ill-health; a dilated pupil usually means fever; a yellowish tint to the white of the eye bespeaks biliousness, while an extreme bluishness of the white is often an indication of impure blood or a scrofulous tendency.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots of found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the highest endorsement from the leading medical experts, teachers and writers on the subject.

Golden Medical Discovery is advised by a little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above.

From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, laryngitis, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

Smallest Visible Things.

Few persons would guess that the smallest things visible to the eye are the stars. Yet, according to a high authority, such is the case. Great as many of the stars are in actual magnitude, their distance is so immense that their angular diameter becomes insensible and they approach to the condition of geometrical points. The minute disks that they appear to have are spurious, an effect of radiation.

Your Liver.

Is out of order. You go to bed in a bad humor and get up with a bad taste in your mouth. You want something to stimulate your liver. Just try Herbine, the liver regulator. A positive cure for Constipation, Dyspepsia and all liver complaints. Mrs. F.—Ft. Worth, Texas, writes: "Have used Herbine in my family for years. Words can't express what I think about it. Everybody in my household are happy and well, and we owe it to Herbine. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store."

Greatness.

There is a kind of elevation which does not depend on fortune. It is a certain air which distinguishes us, and seems to destine us for great things; it is a price which we imperceptibly set on ourselves. By this quality we usurp the deference of other men; and it puts us, in general, more above them than birth, dignity, or even merit itself.—La Rochefoucauld.

Failed.

All efforts have failed to find a better remedy for coughs, colds and lung troubles than Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. J. N. Patterson, Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world. Jno. X. Taylor."

Takes Snapshots of Guests.

A woman well known for her love of amateur photography as well as hospitality, has, ever since her marriage, carried out the plan of "speeding the parting guest" by taking a snapshot of them. The result is in the guestroom, where a frieze of photographs shows the gallery, making an interesting collection, and one that entertains every new visitor that the room shelters.

Doctors Could Not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner, of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much of Foley's Kidney Cure." It makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this, good health is impossible.

Stimulants in Vegetables.

Vegetables not only contain stimulants, but are capable of producing an intoxicating influence on those who depend on them exclusively for food, according to an investigator. He cites a case in which some young people of his acquaintance suffered from partial intoxication as the result of a purely vegetable meal.

If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S.—Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BIG FIRE AT MADISONVILLE.

Four Large Business Houses Destroyed Last Thursday Night.

FLAMES STARTED AT STORE OF BARKUS CLOTHING COMPANY.

One of the biggest conflagrations in Madisonville in years occurred last Thursday night when four large brick business houses were destroyed by fire.

The origin of the fire was a mystery. It was first discovered about 11:15 o'clock, when the upper story of the building occupied by the Barkus Clothing Co., was in flames. The fire department was called out, but owing to Madisonville's meager water facilities it looked as if they could not handle the flames, and Mayor Vickers telegraphed to Evansville for their fire department, which was turned back at Howell, when Madisonville had the flames under control.

From the Barkus building the flames spread, burning one store on the east and two on the west, being checked only by the walls of the other stores being of fire brick.

It looked for a time as if the entire block would be burned, and nearly every store was emptied, the merchandise being piled in the court house yard.

The Grand Leader, perhaps, suffered the greatest loss. Their stock was damaged several thousand dollars by water and removal.

The estimated loss is as follows:

- Barkus Clothing Co., $15,000, partly insured.
- R. M. McFarland, druggist, $4,500, partly insured.
- Dr. Blacklock, dentist, $600.
- O. L. Ross, grocer, building and stock, $13,000, partially insured.
- Bourland & Moore, stock damaged by removal, $500.
- Dr. McNary & Bone, $2,000 partially insured.
- O. H. Young, Dry Goods, $400.
- B. A. Sinton, grocer building and stock, $2,500, partially insured.
- J. B. Harvey, building $4000, partially insured.
- Morgan, Oats & Co., piano dealers, $200.
- Clint Ruby, book store, $600 partially insured.
- W. J. Kirk, feed and produce, $250.
- Yost and Laffoon, attorneys, $150.
- Dr. J. W. Gardiner, furniture store in Barkus building, $200.

THIS IS SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK AT LAKESIDE PARK

Combined Picnic of Christian Sunday Schools Today—Madisonville Methodist Tomorrow.

Loch Mary will today wake to the echoes of many happy voices of a host of children, both young and grown up. For this is to be Christian Sunday School day and they are coming in full force from Morton's Gap, and Madisonville, and Hanson, and Slaughter'sville, in addition to the big Earlington Sunday School, which will of course all be there. Ideal weather is promised and a breeze has been engaged to fan this large and exuberant party free of charge. Ice water will flow and full baskets be emptied in the most liberal manner for the benefit of all who belongs to those Sunday Schools.

And tomorrow the echoes may not sleep. For the Methodist Sunday School, of Madisonville, will people the park and wake up something besides fried chicken and ice cream. All this sounds good to The Bee, although the editor is not a member of any of the Sunday Schools that are on this week's picnic calendar. But beautiful Lakeside Park and Loch Mary have been of late neglected by those who should seek to get near to nature's heart, because, forsooth, "The People" have been so busy leading a strenuous life. There are beauties and pleasures around about Loch Mary that the average, avaricious mortal has never dreamed of. Let us take time occasionally to enjoy nature and the big outdoors.

FAMOUS TREE REJUVENATED.

Growth Under Which Cortez Wept Has New Lease of Life.

Kansas City, Mo.—The famous Noche Triste tree at Popotla, Old Mexico, has been given a new lease of life and it may survive for a few more centuries. It was on the night of July 1, 1520, that Cortez was driven with his army of Spaniards out of the city and down the long causeway that leads to what is now Tacubaya. It was a night of sorrow for the great conqueror. It seemed that disaster had finally overtaken him and that his plans for making a great empire in the new world must fall. His fleeing army was panic stricken. It is related that Cortez was unable to calmly bear the burden of his defeat and that when he reached the overhanging branches of this great cypress tree, which even in that day is said to have been a giant among giants of the trees in the valley of Mexico, he sat down and wept. From that day to this the tree has been known as the tree of the sorrowful night. The age of the tree is problematical. It probably was hundreds of years old when Cortez made it a historic landmark. That happened nearly 400 years ago.

The first evidence of decay of the tree was apparent about 30 years ago as a result of a fire which swept through the forest where it stood. Its trunk was seriously burned and its branches began to decay. The ancient tree gradually lost life and it was nearly dead when it was decided two years ago to make an effort to resuscitate it. A great hole had rotted in its trunk as a result of the burns which it had received at that spot. This cavity was scraped clean and was filled with cement. The dead wood on the upper trunk and branches was removed and careful treatment given every part of the big tree.

In order to still further protect the historic tree an iron fence was built around its trunk to keep the vandals away from it. The tree began to put out new foliage and twigs last year, and this spring it is showing evidence of a complete rejuvenation. It seems to have begun a new growth in all of its branches and there is much rejoicing on the part of the people, who revere its age and wonderful history.

Will Discuss New Battleships.

Newport, R. I., July 14.—According to information given out at the Naval War college, President Roosevelt will come to Newport to attend the final discussion at the naval conference now being held at the college. He will come direct from Oyster Bay on the Mayflower, and will arrive here probably on July 22. The object of the conference is to formulate plans regarding the construction of new battleships.

TAFT BEGINS HIS TASK

HAS BEGUN WORK OF WRITING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

Will Discuss Injunction Question

Of All the Planks, that One Will Probably Receive the Most Attention.

Hot Springs, Va., July 14.—Beginning the work of writing of his speeches of acceptance of the presidential nomination to be delivered in Cincinnati on July 28, Judge Taft Monday made a careful study and comparison of the Democratic and Republican platforms adopted by the recent conventions. He has at his command copies of speeches of acceptance of candidates of both parties of recent years, and within a day or two he will receive copies of the platforms of both parties for many years.

Mr. Taft is handling this task as a judge on the bench would hear a case. He is looking through all the documents bearing on the subject and before concluding his work he will have the views of many leaders of the party on the draft document.

Will Declare His Position.

Of all these planks in the platform, that relating to injunctions is probably the one that will receive the most attention. So much has been said on this subject, criticism of the Democratic sources having been made on his record while on the bench in respect to the process of the injunction and the two parties having adopted planks on that subject which are liable to play an important part in the campaign. Mr. Taft will declare his position on this important question in forceful and unmistakable terms. Senator Warner's notification speech will be so brief that it will not require over ten minutes in its delivery. The speech of acceptance also will be short. The letter of acceptance will treat public questions at greater length and will not be forthcoming for several weeks after the ceremony of notifying the candidate has taken place.

Berlin Financier Promises to Return if Not Detained.

Berlin, July 14.—Siegfried Friedberg, formerly private banker and owner of the financial newspaper, who disappeared from Berlin early last February, leaving liabilities of $1,000,000 and assets of only $2,750, has been located in New York. It appears that Friedberg can not be extradited for the offenses of deception and fraud which are charged against him; but various journals here publish the report that the banker has agreed to return to Berlin and assist in the investigations of his tangled affairs, under guarantees made by the prosecution that he will not be detained against his will.

K. C. Commission Man Stabbed.

Kansas City, July 14.—F. L. Mackey, manager of the Western Commission Co., a brokerage firm here, was stabbed and killed Monday afternoon by James H. Chandler, an abstractor, after a quarrel in Mackey's office. Chandler was arrested and taken to police headquarters, where he made a statement, declaring that Mackey had struck and killed him. He says he went to Mackey's office to talk about the financial affairs of the commission business, in which he claims to have money invested.

TO DEMAND EIGHT SHIPS

IN CASE JAPAN BUYS THE BRAZILIAN DREADNAUGHTS.

ROOSEVELT IS AWAITING PROOF

Will Call Extra Session of Congress and Resort to Drastic Measures.

Washington—President Roosevelt and Mr. Taft have heard unofficial reports of Japan's secret plans to buy Brazil's three Dreadnaughts, and it is said by naval officers that eight Dreadnaughts for the United States may be laid down as soon as positive proof is available that Japan is secretly buying ships. An extra session of congress may be necessary to obtain the eight battleships, but some pretext to call it will be found by the president.

Commander Sims and many of the younger officers who knew of the probability of Japan taking over Brazil's ships admitted that they had heard the rumor of eight battleships. What they heard, however, was official, they said, and could not be repeated. They refused to disclose where the report came from, or to say what measures were thought of to enable the United States government to keep pace with Japan.

"We can not talk about inside plans which might be made in case Japan buys the Brazilian ships," they said. "Details which have been talked about are confidential, but it can be stated that a movement will be begun by naval officers for eight United States Dreadnaughts if Japan buys Dreadnaughts, as it is reported she will do."

President Roosevelt would, it is asserted, resort to drastic means, if necessary, for increasing the number of big fighting ships in the United States navy should Japan begin purchasing the strongest of foreign vessels.

ITALIAN SLAYS IN CAROUSAL.

Following the Killing, Weapon Is Turned on Another.

Springfield, Ill., July 11.—In a quarrel early Friday morning, following an all-night carousal at Middletown, a mining hamlet north of this city, David Moir, 25 years old, was shot and killed, and Joseph Greener, aged 23, was seriously wounded, by Fando Gagnolino, 30 years old, an Italian.

Sheriff posesses have been scouring two counties, but Gagnolino and his two companions, John Labator and Peter Vanari, who fled with him, have not been arrested. The village of Middletown is dry territory, and the five men had obtained a keg of beer. All night long they sat in the shadow of a coal shaft, drinking, until early in the morning, when a wrestling bout was proposed.

Moir easily threw Gagnolino, who left the crowd. Fifteen minutes later he returned, killed Moir, and then shot Greener, who will recover.

A. F. of L. Sued for $50,000.

Denver, July 11.—While Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, John H. R. Thompson Marble Co. against them as leading officers of the American Federation of Labor for $50,000 for alleged damages to its business by a strike and boycott.

Pardon Comes 18 Years Late.

Columbus, O., July 11.—Eighteen years after George Swanson completed his one-year sentence in the penitentiary for violating United States pension laws, having been sent up from Youngstown, a full and complete pardon arrived at the institution Friday, signed by Benjamin Harrison, then president of the United States, and William F. Wharton, his acting secretary of state.

Robert Mether Injured.

Redding, Cal., July 11.—Robert Mather, former president of the Rock Island Railroad Co., while riding in a wagon and leading a saddle horse, was jerked from the vehicle Thursday afternoon and his left wrist was broken. He was taken to Weaverville, 10 miles away, and given surgical attention.

Balloonist Blown to Sea.

Dieppe, France, July 10.—Jacques Fauver, the noted French aeronaut, was blown out to sea Thursday in his big balloon by a sudden change of the wind. Nothing has been heard of him since the balloon faded from the sight of the thousands of spectators who witnessed the ascension.

Storm Cools Washington.

Washington, July 13.—Sunday was the hottest day of the year in Washington. The weather bureau thermometer registered 94 degrees and the temperature on the street reached 104 degrees. The late afternoon brought relief and the temperature was lowered 22 degrees by a storm.

Countess Denies Divorce Rumor.

Newport, R. I., July 11.—All Newport is in a stir over a report that the Countess Berpolding of Austria, who was Miss Stone, an American heiress, is to sue for a divorce. The countess, who is coming home with her mother and sister, Baroness Von Winslow, denies the report.

WHY I MUST MOVE

Women are queer. Here my sister and I have just got nicely settled in a flat, and now she wants to give it up. I took the flat to please my sister, as she expects to get married next year, so she wanted to rub up her knowledge of housekeeping.

Only the man who has boarded for ten years can appreciate what having his own home means. And now, just as I have begun to enjoy sitting under my own vine and fig tree and have ordered flower boxes for the front windows, I have got to get out the same as I got in, just to please my sister. And it is all because a little thing happened a week after we got settled in our apartment, as my sister did call it. Now she calls it an ugly tenement.

The man my sister is engaged to is very absent-minded and so near-sighted he cannot see anything unless he puts his nose right on it. The first time he came to our apartment—it was a week after we got settled—he rang the right bell and started up stairs without stopping to look and see what floor we lived on. Instead of going back to find out, he started in to nose around each door he came to, looking for our name.

An old Tabby came out of one of the flats and seeing him stooping over the opposite door she thought he was a sneak thief trying to pick a lock. Instead of speaking to him and asking him what he wanted she began to follow him up the stairs, watching to see what he would do.

Our flat was the right-hand top one. When Tabby looked through the banisters of the top flight of stairs and saw him disappear in our flat she became greatly alarmed and ran down stairs and sent the janitor for a policeman, while she stood guard in the lower hall.

When the policeman came, he, the janitor and Tabby came up to our flat and rang the bell. My sister's fiancé, Cecil, was out on the fire escape unpacking a box of china, so the excelsior would blow over in the next yard, and he did not hear the bell ring. I don't know where my sister was, but she did not hear the bell either. As for me, I was not home. I had gone out on an errand.

The policeman knocked on the door with his club, and as he got no answer he made the janitor get a bunch of keys and try them until he found one that fitted, and then they all three walked in. My sister heard stealthy footsteps and whispering voices in the hall, so she screamed and locked herself up in her bedroom. Cecil heard nothing and, absentmindedly, kept on dropping the excelsior over the fire escape and watching it float away, while he waited for my sister to come back and tell him what to do next. So you can imagine his surprise when the cop grabbed him by the coat collar and yanked him in on the kitchen floor and stood over him, club in hand.

"Is this the feller?" said the cop to Tabby.

"Yes, it is," said Tabby.

"Come on," said the cop, and hauled Cecil upon his feet and began to hustle him out of the flat.

Cecil thought it was time for him to begin to scream, and he yelled, "Lizzie, come out and save me! Lizzie is my sister's name."

The policeman asked Lizzie through her locked door if she knew the man? She swore she didn't, and said he must be a burglar and please to take him away.

Just then I got back. I had hard work forcing my way up the stairs and through the crowd late at night.

"What's the matter?" I asked the policeman.

"This lady," he said, pointing to Tabby, "says this man is a sneak thief."

"Oh, rot!" I exclaimed. "Why, I have known him since he wore long dresses." Then I made Lizzie come out and when she saw that it was Cecil who had been arrested she fell in his arms, and I don't know what she did say, but everybody began to laugh, and I fired everybody out but the cop, the janitor and Tabby.

I gave Tabby a piece of my mind and put her out in tears. Next I gave the cop a five spot and told him not to tell anybody. I told the janitor he was a fool and he went off mad because I gave him nothing.

In the meantime Cecil and Lizzie had disappeared. I did not look for them, but stuck my head out the parlor window to cool off and think what the consequences would be. And that is the reason my sister wants to give up the flat. Foolish, isn't it?

Strange Street Names in China.

The name proposed as a substitute for the present commonplace title of Sixteenth street in Washington, D. C., is the Avenue of the Presidents. To this some persons object because of its length.

How would they like to import a few street names from China, where such poetic titles as the following are in vogue:

Street of Golden Profits, Street of Benevolence and Love, Street of Everlasting Love, Street of Longevity, Street of One Hundred Grandsons, Street of One Thousand Grandsons, Street of Saluting Dragons, Street of the Reposing Dragons, Street of a Freshing Breeze, Street of Sweeping Beattitudes, Street of a Thousandfold Peace, Street of Five Happinesses, Street of Ten Thousand Happinesses, Street of Manifest Brightness and Street of Accumulated Goodness.

DOWNWARD COURSE.

Fast Being Realized By Earlington People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow; Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Mrs. Jos. Blondin, living on Railroad St., Earlington, Ky., says: It gives me the greatest pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. My husband had been suffering from a most annoying case of kidney complaint for years and although he took medicines without number, and doctored faithfully, he found no relief. His back pained him constantly, the kidney secretions contained a dark sediment, and were otherwise disordered. His general health was far from being what it should be. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to him and he procured a box at the St. Bernard drug store. The results were all that could be desired. Every vestige of kidney trouble was driven from his system in a short time and he is now as well as ever.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Uncle Allen.

"There wouldn't be half so much trouble in this world," said Uncle Allen Sparks, "if the people who ought to be listening didn't insist on doing all the talking."

The Philosopher or folly.

"The wicked stand in slippery places," quoted that driving old dog, the Philosopher of Folly. "It's the good people who aren't wise to the game who fall when they strike such spots."

The Remedy That Does.

"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing others promise, but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. B. Pierson, of Auburn Centre, Pa. "It is curing me of throat and lung trouble of long standing, that other treatments relieved only temporarily. New Discovery is doing me so much good that I feel confident its continued use for a reasonable length of time will restore me to perfect health." This will restore me to perfect health. This renowned cough and cold remedy and throat and lung healer is sold at all leading drug stores. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Speed of Electric Signal.

Sir Robert Ball states that if a telegraph wire were carried seven times around the earth on the line of the equator, a distance of 25,000 miles, the electric signal would make the seven currents in one second.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better with 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless, feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporative, drug department.

Truth.

Many a truth is spoken in jest because the speaker is afraid he might get knocked down if he didn't speak it that way.

For cuts, sprains, bruises, burns, rheumatic and all other pains, use McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment. First sold in 1853, still the same effective remedy in 1908. Good for men or beast. 25c., 50c. and $1.00.
